

Security Training Services

Travelers are inherently exposed to a wide array of risks when they travel to unfamiliar environments. Your business traveler may not be aware of the language, culture or security threats of a particular destination, leaving them vulnerable to potential harm. Any business that has employees who travel overseas on its behalf could benefit from AIG Travel's security services solutions.

Our training programs are customizable to your unique needs. Ranging from industry expertise, to location specific information; our trainings are delivered by members of our security team to ensure that you are meeting your duty-of-care obligations to your employees.

SECURITY TRAINING PROGRAMS

Online Duty-of-Care Program

An e-learning security and situation program that helps employers comply with their duty of care to employees who travel on business.

- Transportation
- Staying Healthy
- Crime
- Kidnapping and Terror
- Certification of Completion

Travel Security Awareness Program

A one-day, face to face training program that is designed to equip the traveler with the detailed knowledge to plan and undertake business travel abroad in high and low risk environments.

- Pre-travel planning
- Personal security measures
- Cultural awareness
- Health risks
- Transportation considerations
- Crime avoidance

Female Travel Security Awareness Program

The Female Travel Security Awareness program is geared specifically to female travelers to prepare them with valuable information while traveling abroad.

